

“Break your own judgments, bring your own mindset to a different level”

Company Recruitment Team

July 30, 2023

???.
????
????

Job Application for Fresher Reactjs

Dear Mr./Ms./Dr. LastName,

About Me

I have good communication skills, a strong love for programming, and a rapid rate of learning. I'm good at front-end technologies. I have HTML, CSS, and JavaScript skills. I am very proficient in JavaScript, particularly the JavaScript object model and DOM manipulation. thorough knowledge of the fundamentals of React.js and knowledge of well-liked React.js workflows (like Flux or Redux). knowledge of RESTful APIs. effective usage of GIT and other source code management systems. rapid ability to learn and use new technology.

Why ?

I admire your company's projects and your commitment to developing people. Working at your company means that I will have valuable opportunities to apply my knowledge and competence on improving your software and make them even more reliable. Furthermore, your commitment to supporting cooperating as well as independent abilities for employees also makes me feel intrigued and attracted to your company, where cooperation is guaranteed but individual ability is also not neglected. Last but not least, the chances to work with colleagues coming from different countries help me improve my flexibility to adapt to a multicultural working environment - the environment I will enjoy if I spend my knowledge and expertise at your company.

Why Me?

I'm the one who is always eager to discover new things. It is the main factor affecting my choices of direction I would go to resolve problems in my company or projects, I want to investigate and implement on Git Hub. It is also the main reason motivating me to write this letter to you after I read the job's description on your website. Moreover, I fervently hope to learn while bringing my contributions and passion to the company through the interesting position you offer. Given the requirements of the work and my actual capabilities, I believe that my skill set and enthusiasm will make me a great fit for the job.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you and thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Viet Vu

: